Company Profile

We are a producer of anthracite coal based in Guizhou Province of the PRC. We engage in the extraction and sale of anthracite coal. We possess scarce anthracite coal resources with the characteristics of high calorific value, low sulphur content and low ash content. Most of our coal products are suitable to be used as chemical coal and PCI coal, as well as for further value-added applications, such as premium quality active charcoal. We are one of the less than 100 qualified consolidators in Guizhou Province that are permitted to engage in coal mine acquisition and operation.

The Company was incorporated in the Cayman Islands under the Companies Law as an exempted company with limited liability on 8 January 2014 and was registered as a non-Hong Kong company under Part 16 of the Companies Ordinance on 29 April 2016. The shares of the Company were listed on the Stock Exchange on 13 July 2016.

Currently, we have four underground anthracite coal mines, three of which, namely Weishe Coal Mine, Lasu Coal Mine and Luozhou Coal Mine, are in commercial production, and the remaining one, Tiziyan Coal Mine, is under development. We have grown rapidly in recent years, primarily as a result of the technological upgrades of our coal mines, which have led to increased production capacity and improved mechanisation rate of operation and recovery rate.

Chairman's Statement

Dear Shareholders,

On behalf of the Board of Company, I am pleased to present the audited results of the Group for the financial year ended 31 December 2017.

2017 is a meaningful year for the Company. First of all, as the Chinese government continued to implement the production capacity reduction policy, a large number of outdated production capacity across the nation has been closed down, which optimized the supply and demand relationship within the coal industry, causing the coal products to remain high prices, resulting in a substantial increase in the profits of coal enterprises. According to data from the National Bureau of Statistics of China, the total profit of the coal mining and washing industry in 2017 increased by 2.9 times from 2016. Secondly, in December 2017, the Company acquired the exploration rights of the Anlang Syncline Coal Mine in Hezhang County, Guizhou Province. The Anlang Syncline Coal Mine is adjacent to the Weishe Coal Mine which is owned by the Group, with continuity of coal seam of the Weishe Coal Mine. The coal of the said two coal mines has similar quality, and their anthracite coal resources also have the characteristics of high calorific value, low sulphur content and low ash content. The reserves of coal resources, exploration area and designed annual production capacity of the Anlang Syncline Coal Mine are much larger than those of the Weishe Coal Mine. According to the China Solid Mineral Resource/Reserve Classification System, in the exploration area of 19.67 square kilometers of the Anlang Syncline Coal Mine, a total of 123.77 million tonnes of coal resources were identified; the coal mine has been approved to construct two pits and the designed capacity is 600,000 tonnes and 450,000 tonnes per year, upon which, as accumulated with the existing coal mines of the Group, the total designed production capacity of the Group will increase from 2,250,000 tonnes to 3,300,000 tonnes per year. Being one of the less than 100 qualified consolidators in Guizhou Province that are permitted to engage in coal mine acquisition and operation, the Company may continue to seek opportunities to consolidate high quality coal resources that can meet the stringent quality requirements of the Group by taking advantage of the favorable industry policies. The acquisition of the exploration right would enable the Company to increase its reserves of high quality anthracite coal resources, maintain product competitiveness in the market, expand its operation scale and enhance its market position.

In 2017, the Company maintained a relatively stable performance. As of 31 December 2017, the Group produced 1,036,941.04 tonnes of coal products, including 186,608.41 tonnes of lump coal, 168,802.95 tonnes of medium lumps, 318,972.03 tonnes of clean coal, 234,046.33 tonnes of fine coal and 128,511.32 tonnes of raw coal, recording an income of RMB642.43 million, gross profit of RMB369.25 million and earnings attributable to owners of the Company of RMB230.07 million.

Under the backdrop of favorable policies, as well as the significant improvement in the overall performance of the coal industry, and coupled with the approval for the Company as a qualified consolidator permitted to engage in coal mine acquisition and operation and the acquisition of quality anthracite coal resources, the Company was able to increase its reserves of high quality anthracite coal resources, maintain product competitiveness in the market, expand its operation scale and enhance its market position, resulting in the stable results performance achieved during 2017.

On behalf of the Company, I would like to take this opportunity to express our sincere gratitude towards all of our clients, business partners and investors for their support and trust of the Company. I would also like to extend my utmost gratitude towards our Directors and staff members for their dedication and contributions.

By order of the Board

Xu Bo

Management Discussion and Analysis

The shares of the Company have been listed on the Main Board of The Stock Exchange of Hong Kong Limited (the “Stock Exchange”) since 13 July 2016 (the “Listing Date”).

This management discussion and analysis is prepared as of 28 March 2018. It should be read in conjunction with the audited consolidated financial statements and notes thereto of the Group for the year ended 31 December 2017.

BUSINESS REVIEW, MARKET REVIEW AND PROSPECT

In 2017, China’s economy maintained a steady growth as a whole, its development was better than expected. According to data from the National Bureau of Statistics of China, the average growth rate of China’s GDP in 2017 was 6.9%, and the gross domestic product (GDP) was RMB82,712.2 billion, representing an increase of 0.2 percentage point from that of 2016.

In 2017, the global economy has been recovering as bulk product prices rebounded, whereas China’s overall economy was on a stable upward trend, and the Chinese government continued to implement structural reforms on the supply side, which led to the optimization of industrial restructuring. In addition, some of the preliminary prices of industrial products further declined, and the prices of such industrial products also showed signs of recovery. In 2017, the industrial sector as a whole was on the rise. According to the data from the National Bureau of Statistics of China, the Producer Price Index (PPI) has increased significantly year-on-year in 2017, with an increase of 7.8% in February, marking the highest point for the whole year. After March, due to the price drop in key sectors, the increment in PPI has gone down, but maintained a 5.5% increase for three consecutive months from May through July. After August, the increase in PPI gone back up but did not surpass that in February. During the fourth quarter, the price of steel, cement and chemical products rose significantly, but slowed down in December with an increase of 4.9%, the lowest for the year but still maintained a year-on-year upward trend. In 2017, the coal mining and washing industry recorded an overall growth rate of 28.2% year-on-year.

In 2017, the Chinese government continued to implement the production capacity reduction policy in the coal industry. According to data from the National Energy Administration of the PRC, in 2017, production capacity of over 150 million tonnes has been closed down nationwide, which exceeded the capacity reduction target. As one of the important coal production bases in China, Guizhou Province is also implementing and observing the national capacity reduction policy. According to the Guizhou Provincial Energy Administration, Guizhou Province has closed down 120 coal mines with a production capacity of 17.49 million tonnes per year in 2017. With the continuous elimination of outdated production capacity, the supply and demand within the coal industry has gradually restored balance, certain areas are even facing a supply shortage, resulting in a significant increase in the profits of coal enterprises. According to the data of the National Bureau of Statistics, the total profit of the coal mining and washing industry in 2017 was up 2.9 times than that in 2016.

The overall upward trend of the coal industry is also manifested in the performance of coal enterprises. A number of coal enterprises listed on the domestic A shares market have shown a considerable profit growth rate in 2017. With the investors’ confidence in coal enterprises growing strong, the overall performance in share prices of such coal enterprises also stood out. Evidenced by the multiple sources of information, the current supply and demand levels of the coal market is favourable and the market remains active, with an overall steady coal prices.

In regard to the three coal mines of the Group, namely the Weishe Coal Mine, Luozhou Coal Mine and Lasu Coal Mine, production was halted for various period of time under the influence from governmental policies, resulting in a decrease of production capacity of the Group and the corresponding drop in revenue in 2017 as compared to 2016. However, due to the absence of listing fees during the year and the corresponding decrease in finance costs resulted from the reduction in loans, the Group has recorded an increase in consolidated net profit during the reporting period as compared with the audited consolidated net profit for the year ended 31 December 2016.

Management Discussion and Analysis

As abovementioned, the steady economic growth in China, along with the continuous implementation of production capacity reduction policy within the coal industry by the PRC government, and coupled with the recovery of the coal industry, have resulted in the relatively steady results performance of the Group in 2017.

According to the forecast of the International Monetary Fund (IMF), the global economy will enter into an upward cycle in 2018, and it is expected that global economic growth will reach 3.9%, hence China's economy will also maintain a stable growth. The Chinese government's policy of de-capacity in the coal industry will be continued, upholding a relatively strong market demand. According to the National Bureau of Statistics, raw coal production for the first quarter of 2018 was 0.8 billion tons, representing a year-on-year increase of 3.9%. As enterprises concentration was further enhanced, the average scale of enterprises was significantly expanded. Imports of raw coal have also shown significant growth. In the first quarter of 2018, 75.41 million tons of raw coal were imported, representing a year-on-year increase of 16.6%. To view the situation as a whole, a combination of factors will advance the overall development of the Chinese coal market in 2018.

FINANCIAL REVIEW

Revenue

During the Reporting Period, the Group recorded a revenue of approximately RMB642.4 million, representing a decrease of RMB48.6 million, or a drop of approximately 7.0%, from approximately RMB691.0 million for the year ended 31 December 2016. The decrease in the revenue was primarily attributable to suspension of production for different period of time at three of the Group's coal mines due to national policies, resulting in decrease in both production volume and sales volume.

Cost of Sales

The Group's cost of sales decreased by 4.9% to approximately RMB273.2 million during the Reporting Period from approximately RMB287.4 million for the year ended 31 December 2016, which was primarily attributable to decrease in sales volume.

| Cost of materials, fuel and energy | 76 | 73 |
| Depreciation and amortisation | 33 | 35 |
| Business taxes and surcharges | 41 | 40 |
| Restoration and environmental costs | 1 | 2 |
| Others | 3 | 2 |
| Total | 263 | 257 |

As a result of the foregoing, the gross profit decreased by 8.5% from approximately RMB403.6 million from the year ended 31 December 2016 to approximately RMB369.2 million for the Reporting Period. The gross profit margin decreased from approximately 58.4% for the year ended 31 December 2016 to approximately 57.5% for the Reporting Period. This was mainly due to increase in staff compensation and unit prices of raw material.

Distribution and Selling Expenses

During the Reporting Period, the Group's distribution and selling expenses were approximately RMB3.3 million, representing a decrease of RMB0.2 million, or a drop of approximately 5.7%, from approximately RMB3.5 million for the year ended 31 December 2016, which was primarily attributable to decrease in sales volume, which resulted to the decrease in diesel consumption.

Administrative Expenses

During the Reporting Period, the Group's administrative expenses were approximately RMB26.7 million, representing an increase of RMB3.9 million, or a rise of approximately 17.1%, from approximately RMB22.8 million for the year ended 31 December 2016, which was primarily attributable to the increase in staff compensation, stock registration fees and legal consultation fees.

Finance Costs

During the Reporting Period, the Group's finance costs were approximately RMB31.7 million, representing a decrease of RMB11.6 million, or a drop of approximately 26.8%, from approximately RMB43.3 million for the year ended 31 December 2016, which was primarily attributable to partial repayment of loans.

Income Tax Expense

During the Reporting Period, the Group's income tax expense was approximately RMB83.2 million, representing a decrease of RMB5.3 million from approximately RMB88.5 million for the year ended 31 December 2016, which was primarily attributable to the decrease in taxable income.

Profit and Total Comprehensive Income Attributable to Owners of the Company

During the Reporting Period, profit and total comprehensive income attributable to owners of the Company was approximately RMB230.1 million, representing an increase of RMB16.4 million, or a rise of approximately 7.7%, from approximately RMB213.7 million for the year ended 31 December 2016. The increase was primarily attributable to the decrease in finance costs for loans and no listing costs has occurred during the period.

Liquidity and Capital Resources

As at 31 December 2017, the Group had net current liabilities of approximately RMB67.2 million (31 December 2016: RMB101.5 million).

The Group intends to finance its future capital expenditure requirements mainly with the net proceeds from the global offering, cash from operating activities and bank borrowings. As at 31 December 2017, the Group had unutilised banking facilities in the amount of approximately RMB557.4 million (31 December 2016: RMB325.1 million). The bank borrowings mainly carry interest rate ranging from 4.79% to 6.60%.

As of 31 December 2017, the Group had cash and cash equivalents of approximately RMB227.6 million. The Group monitors and maintains a level of cash and cash equivalents deemed adequate by management to finance the Group's operations and mitigate the effects of fluctuations in cash flows. The management monitors the utilisation of bank borrowings and ensures compliance with the covenants under the relevant loan.

Management Discussion and Analysis

Capital Commitments

The Group had capital commitments in respect of the acquisition of an exploration right amounting to approximately RMB201.6 million (31 December 2016: Nil). The Group plans to settle the capital commitments by payment of RMB144 million and RMB57.6 million in April and October, 2018 respectively.

Gearing Ratio

As at 31 December 2017, the gearing ratio (total bank borrowings over total equity attributable to owners of the Company) was 34.8% (31 December 2016: 76.3%). The decrease in the gearing ratio during the Reporting Period was primarily attributable to the decrease in loans. As at 31 December 2017, the Group had total bank borrowings amounted to approximately RMB342.6 million (31 December 2016: RMB574.9 million).

Capital Structure

During the Reporting Period and up to the date of this report, there has been no change in the capital structure of the Company. The capital of the Company comprises ordinary shares and other reserves.

Contingent Liabilities

Between 2013 and 2015, the Group entered into five conditional asset transfer agreements with independent third parties to acquire all the assets and liabilities in five companies (with respect to Daihaizi Coal Mine, Xinfeng Coal Mine, Chengguan Coal Mine, Hongfa Coal Mine and Qingsong Coal Mine), each of which is inactive but holding the mining right of an anthracite coal mine in Guizhou Province of the PRC. Each of the agreements contain a number of condition precedents including, but not limited to, transfer of mining right to the Group, technological upgrade and related application for upgrading the annual production capacity of the mines by the vendors, obtaining the updated mining right licences with the increased production capacity, satisfactory completion of the due diligence by the Group as well as consideration determination based on professional valuation.

In 2016, the Group entered into supplemental agreements with the vendors to delineate the rights and obligations between the parties under the proposed acquisitions and each of the vendors agreed to indemnify the Group and its directors and shareholders for any potential liabilities therefrom. In addition, the Group has the sole and absolute discretion to decide whether or not to proceed with the acquisitions in accordance with the supplemental agreements. Based on the foregoing, the management of the Group is of the view that no provision is considered necessary during the Reporting Period.

At the end of the Reporting Period, the respective acquisitions are yet to complete given the fact that many of the key completion precedents are not satisfied. Hence, the Directors consider that it is unlikely that future economic benefits associated with the mines will flow to the Group in the near term and the consideration of the transactions cannot be accurately measured. The Directors concluded that the risks and rewards of those anthracite coal mines are yet to be transferred to the Group. Notwithstanding certain obligations imposed on the Group in the respective asset transfer agreements as well as those mining licence transfer agreements subsequently entered into, the management of the Group, having consulted its PRC legal advisors, considered that contingent liabilities adhered to those agreements are remote and yet to estimate reliably. Hence, no provision has been made in the financial statements in accordance with HKAS 37 "Provisions, Contingent Liabilities and Contingent Assets".

Employee and Remuneration Policy

As of 31 December 2017, the Group had a total of 1,573 employees. The employee's remuneration policy of the Group are formulated on the basis of the performance, work experience and salary level prevailing in the market. The Group has not experienced any significant employment issues or any suspension of operations due to labour disputes nor has it experienced any difficulty in the recruitment and retention of experienced staff. The Group maintains a good relationship with its employees.

Material Acquisition and Disposal of Assets

On 21 December 2017, Guizhou Union (Group) Mining Co. Ltd. (貴州優能(集團)礦業股份有限公司) (the “Purchaser”), a wholly-owned subsidiary of the Company, entered into an exploration right purchase agreement with Mr. Peng Song (彭松) and Mr. Zhang Liming (張力明) (together as the “Sellers”), pursuant to which the Purchaser agreed to purchase and the Sellers agreed to sell the exploration right for the Anlang Syncline Coal Mine in Hezhang County, Guizhou Province, the PRC at the total consideration of RMB288,000,000. For details, please refer to the announcements of the Company dated 21 December 2017 and 4 January 2018.

Save as disclosed above, there was no material acquisition and disposal of assets during the Reporting Period and up to the date of this report.

Off-balance Sheet Arrangement

The Group has not entered into, nor does it expect to enter into, any off-balance sheet arrangement. The Group also has not entered into any financial guarantees or other commitments to guarantee the payment obligations of third parties.

Charges over Assets of the Group

As at 31 December 2017, the Group’s mining rights with carrying amounts of approximately RMB878.3 million were pledged to secure bank borrowings of the Group from Guiyang Branch of Shanghai Pudong Development Bank.

Foreign Exchange Exposure

The Group’s business is mainly located in the PRC with most of its transactions effected in RMB. Other than certain bank balances denominated in HKD, most of the assets and liabilities of the Group are denominated in RMB. As the fluctuation of the exchange rate of RMB against HKD was limited for the year of 2017, the Group was not exposed to a materially adverse risk of exchange fluctuation during the Reporting Period.

Subsequent Events after Reporting Period

Save as disclosed in the section “Material Acquisition and Disposal of Assets”, there is no other material event undertaken by the Company or the Group subsequent to 31 December 2017 and up to the date of this report.

Directors' Report

The Directors present their annual report and the audited consolidated financial statements for the year ended 31 December 2017.

PRINCIPAL ACTIVITIES

The principal activity of the Company is investment holding. The Group is a producer of anthracite coal based in Guizhou Province of the PRC, and is principally engaged in the extraction and sale of anthracite coal. There were no significant changes in the nature of the Group's principal activities during the Reporting Period.

BUSINESS REVIEW

The business review of the Group is set out in the section headed "Management Discussion and Analysis" on pages 9 to 13 of this annual report.

PRINCIPAL RISKS AND UNCERTAINTIES

The operations and business of the Group may be affected by various risks and uncertainties and the principal risks and uncertainties are set out below:

- I. During the Reporting Period, the Group derived substantially all of the revenue from the sale of anthracite coal products which the Group primarily sold to trading companies who in turn on-sold to end users including the customers and end users from chemical, metallurgical and constructional industries. The changes in the economic condition of the PRC and the performance of chemical, metallurgical and constructional industries in the PRC may affect the demand for anthracite coal in the PRC and in turn its price, and hence have an adverse impact of the Group.
- II. As the Group derived substantially all of the revenue from the sale of anthracite coal products, the Group's business, financial conditions and results of operations substantially relied on the prices of coal products charged by the Group. The Group mainly referred to the domestic market prices of anthracite coal market in the PRC in determining the prices of anthracite coal products, especially in Guizhou Province and the adjacent provinces. Such prices are of periodical nature and have experienced substantial volatility in the past due to various supply and demand factors. The governmental policies also have an impact on coal supply and pricing. Any substantial or extended decline in the market prices of anthracite coal in the PRC and in Guizhou Province could substantially decrease the revenue of the Group, which will affect the profitability as well as cash flow of the Group.
- III. Any significant decrease in purchases of the Group's customers or any substantial delay in their payments or any failure to maintain relationships with existing major customers or attracting new customers may materially and adversely impact the Group's operation results and financial conditions.
- IV. The Group's coal mining operations may be materially disrupted by operational risks and natural disasters, including earthquakes and other natural disasters, severe weather conditions, unexpected maintenance or technical problems, key equipment failures, unexpected geological variations and underground mining risks such as mine collapse, gas leaks or explosions, fire and flooding. The occurrence of these events may materially disrupt the Group's coal production capacity, disrupt coal transportation or cause significant business interruptions, personal injuries, and cause property or environmental damages as well as reputation damages.

- V. The Group's coal mining operations require a reliable supply of electricity, water and other key materials and components, including mining equipments, replacement parts, explosives and roof support materials, and our demand for these resources and materials is expected to grow as our business grows and our production capacity increases. In the case of decrease in supply or increase in costs of electricity, water or other key supplies, the Group's operating costs will be increased if the Group is not able to pass on the increased costs of these resources and supplies to our customers, which may significantly disrupt the Group's business and operations and could have a material adverse effect on our financial conditions and results of operations.

A) ENVIRONMENT

A1. Emission

As a coal production enterprise, the Group strictly monitors and controls the discharge of pollutants and complies with the relevant national environmental protection regulations. The Group has implemented internal environmental protection policies to minimize the impact of business operations on the environment, such as exhaustion, sewage and solid waste, and has implemented a number of environmental protection measures for this purpose.

During the Reporting Period, the Group did not violate the “Environmental Protection Law of the People's Republic of China”, the “Law of the People's Republic of China on the Prevention and Control of Water Pollution”, the “Regulations on the Administration of National Environmental Monitoring”, and other applicable environmental protection laws and regulations.

Exhaustion and sewage discharge

The Group's coal mine activities rely mainly on electricity from the government grid and coal mined by itself, without any gas or other fuel in its production processes.

During the coal mining process, we need to use the large machineries for drilling and transportation. Smog and dust is also produced during the blasting process. The Group has continuously invested in environmental protection projects to reduce the generation of pollutants from the source. We continue to monitor and enhance production efficiency in the production process, and set up filters and barrier at the discharge site to reduce the different types of emission from various aspects.

In order to reduce air pollutant emission, we use low-emission machines and low-sulfur coal to control pollutants and greenhouse gases in exhaustion. The Group has installed various types of sensors at the bottom of mines to monitor the content of gases, such as methane and carbon monoxide. We are also working on processes to optimize production processes and procedures, such as setting belt conveyors in closed transport corridors for more efficient transportation.

Coalbed methane (gas) that is produced during the mining process would cause air pollution if emitted directly. The Group jointly established Guizhou Nanneng Clean Energy Exploration Ltd.* (Nanneng Clean Energy) in cooperation with Southern Power Grid, through which we set up gas-powered stations near coal mines, and utilized the wastes for power generation with the gas produced in the process of extraction. In 2017, the Group had not use the electricity generated by the facility.

The Group owns vehicles mainly used in transportation of cargoes and employees. During the Reporting Period, the relevant vehicle exhaustion emission data are as follows:

| Type of Emission ¹ | Unit | Quantity |
|-------------------------------|--------|----------|
| Nitrogen Oxide (NOx) | Tonnes | 4.91 |
| Sulfur Oxides(SOx) | Tonnes | 0.0053 |
| Particulate Matter(PM) | Tonnes | 0.37 |

Environmental, Social and Governance Report

In regard to sewage disposal, we endeavor to minimise the usage of water resources and monitor the pollutants concentration in the water. The Group uses spring water near the mine and natural groundwater under the mine during production. To avoid contamination of the water resources near our production facilities, we impose strict control over sewage collection and conduct filtration and purification to avoid uncontrolled sewage disposal. In designing the production facilities, we have engaged environment evaluation experts to evaluate the ecological influences on our production for the avoidance of contamination to the underground water. The Group has arranged responsible personnel to regularly check the performance of the drainage facilities to ensure that the discharge of pollutants is at a controlled level. In order to reduce the water consumption, the Group reuses sewage from our mines after treatment in the sewage treatment tank and reuse it in the mine production. The amount of sewage treated by the sewage treatment tank in 2017 is over approximately 829,000 tons.

Greenhouse gas emissions

The direct emissions of greenhouse gas by the Group mainly comes from the power resources used in the mine's production activities and self-exploited coal. During the Reporting Period, the total amount of greenhouse gases² directly and indirectly generated by the Group was as follows:

| Source of emission | Unit | Amount | Density (per square meter of production area) |
|------------------------|-------|-----------|---|
| Production at the mine | tonne | 78,889.17 | 0.51 |

In order to reduce greenhouse gas emissions, the Group planted various types of trees such as osmanthus, photinia, Cluster Bauhinia and Phyllostachys nana Rendle in the mining area to improve the environment while reducing the impact of greenhouse gases. For detailed greenhouse gas emission reduction measures, please refer to "A2. Resource Usage".

Waste Disposal

During the coal mining and production process, hazardous waste produced by the Group only includes used motor oil. The total disposal amount during the Reporting Period was 2 tonnes.

Non-hazardous wastes include coal gangue, boiler ash, coal slush from the mine water treatment station, sludge, and household wastes. The total disposal amount during the Reporting Period was 136,422.45 tonnes.

The Group highly values the waste disposal treatment, and strives to reduce the amount of waste. We separate hazardous and non-hazardous wastes and store them separately. Hazardous waste is collected by qualified waste disposal contractors. We will also recycle, reuse and sell reusable waste. We will also optimize the design of mines and production processes, such as designing effective mining channels in coal seams to reduce the amount of waste.

² The calculation of carbon emissions is based on the "Greenhouse Gas Protocol" published by the World Business Council for Sustainable Development (WBCSD) and the World Resources Institute (WRI), the Regional Baseline Emission Factors "《區域電網基準綫排放因子》" published by the Regional Development and Reform Commission of the People's Republic of China, China Guidelines and Methods for Accounting and Reporting of Greenhouse Gas Emissions by Coal Producing Enterprises (Trial) 《中國煤炭生產企業溫室氣體排放核算方法與報告指南》(試行), Guidelines for the Calculation and Reporting of Greenhouse Gas Emissions by Land Transport Enterprises (Trial) "《陸上交通運輸企業溫室氣體排放核算方法與報告指南》(試行)", and Reporting Guide for Environmental Key Performance Indicators published by HKEx.

The Group handles wastes generated during its operation through the following procedures:

|------------------------------------|---|
| Coal Gangue | Centralized collection for recycling; or direct narrow-gauge channels to deliver to depot for storage |
| Boiler ash | Deliver to waste field for storage |
| Coal slush | Dehydrate by filtered press for external sales |
| Sludge and household wastes | Transport to the designated space by the government sanitation department |

The Group reduced the production of non-hazardous wastes by improving production processes, recycling and export sales, and has reduced the total amount of non-hazardous wastes by approximately 5%.

A2. Resources Usage³

The Group encourages conservation of resources, and formulates various production process documents to guide our employees on the reduction of resources consumption and codes of environmental protection, so as to reduce resource consumption from daily habits. As to energy use, we optimize production processes and purchase more environmentally friendly production machines to enhance our energy efficiency. The Group's management team will regularly monitor the use of resources, analyze and investigate abnormal use of resources, and rectify the excessive use of resources in a timely manner. As an energy extractor, we are committed to setting an example at the source of energy and producing greener and more efficient green coal for the general public.

Energy Usage

Direct emission of greenhouse gases by the Group mainly comes from the electricity, petrol, diesel and self-exploited coal used during the mine's production activities. During the Reporting Period, the Group's energy usage was as follows:

| Type | Unit | Amount | Intensity (per production square meter) |
|-------------|-------|------------|---|
| Electricity | kWh | 43,841,027 | 0.26 |
| Anthracite | Tonne | 649.79 | 0.0042 |
| Diesel | Litre | 311,462.44 | 2.03 |
| Gasoline | Litre | 20,125.98 | 0.13 |

In order to enhance energy efficiency and reduce the consumption of non-essential energy, the Group has adopted the following measures:

- Give priority to energy-efficient machinery and appliances;
- Continuously monitor energy consumption data during production, and handle abnormal energy consumption in a timely manner; and
- Improve the efficiency of production planning and reduce inefficient production time.

³ The Group does not consume packaging materials during coal mining and production. Therefore, the data on total amount of packaging materials does not apply to the Group.

Water Management

During the Reporting Period, water usage of the Group is as follows:

| Type | Unit | Amount | Intensity (per production square meter) |
|-------|----------------|---------|--|
| Water | m ³ | 829,080 | 5.40 |

During the reporting period, the Group did not encounter any problems in finding suitable water sources. The Group's coal washing plants use internal recycling water. Sewage is treated and reused, and sewage from the mines is reused for mine production or above-ground fire sprinkler.

A3. Environment and Natural Resources

The Group places great emphasis on the impact on the environment and natural resources of the Group's businesses. Before the coal mines commence production, we employ environmental assessment experts to assess the ecological impacts in the vicinity from multiple perspectives and make long-term plans for the sustainability and rehabilitation of the production facilities in the future. In addition to complying with environmental regulations and international standards for protection of the natural environment, the Group also integrates the concept of environmental protection into its internal management and day-to-day operational activities, and is committed in achieving environmental sustainability.

The Group adheres to the principle of promoting environmental protection and effective use of resources. It monitors the potential impact of business operations on the environment in real time and promotes green office and production environments through the four basic principles: reducing, reusing, recycling and replacing. The impact of the environment is minimized. Where applicable, we use the most practical technologies to protect natural resources.

Dust

The production process of the mine create dust in the air, which will lead to a decline of air quality in the surrounding areas and thus causes harm in the human lungs. We continue to implement dust control measures at production facilities, adopting dust-proof measures such as spraying water in dusty areas and reducing the height when unloading coal, so as to control the concentration of dust in the air at a safe level in accordance with the "Coal Mine Safety Regulations" formulated by the Group.

B) SOCIAL

B1. Employment

Employees are the cornerstone of the Group's long-term development. The Group is glad to provide each employee with a comfortable and good working environment so that they can progress and grow with us.

TO THE MEMBERS OF CHINA UNIENERGY GROUP LIMITED

(incorporated in the Cayman Islands with limited liability)

Opinion

We have audited the consolidated financial statements of CHINA UNIENERGY GROUP LIMITED (the “Company”) and its subsidiaries (collectively referred to as “the Group”) set out on pages 50 to 99, which comprise the consolidated statement of financial position as at 31 December 2017, and the consolidated statement of profit or loss and other comprehensive income, consolidated statement of changes in equity and consolidated statement of cash flows for the year then ended, and notes to the consolidated financial statements, including a summary of significant accounting policies.

In our opinion, the consolidated financial statements give a true and fair view of the consolidated financial position of the Group as at 31 December 2017, and of its consolidated financial performance and its consolidated cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with Hong Kong Financial Reporting Standards (“HKFRSs”) issued by the Hong Kong Institute of Certified Public Accountants (“HKICPA”) and have been properly prepared in compliance with the disclosure requirements of the Hong Kong Companies Ordinance.

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with Hong Kong Standards on Auditing (“HKSA”) issued by the HKICPA. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor’s Responsibilities for the Audit of the Consolidated Financial Statements section of our report. We are independent of the Group in accordance with the HKICPA’s Code of Ethics for Professional Accountants (the “Code”), and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with the Code. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Key Audit Matters

Key audit matters are those matters that, in our professional judgment, were of most significance in our audit of the consolidated financial statements of the current period. These matters were addressed in the context of our audit of the consolidated financial statements as a whole, and in forming our opinion thereon, and we do not provide a separate opinion on these matters.

Key audit matter

1. Depreciation and amortisation of mining related assets

We identified the depreciation and amortisation of mining related assets calculating using the unit-of-production method as a key audit matter due to the involvement of significant estimation and the management's judgement in determining the reserves of the coal mines.

As explained in note 5 to the consolidated financial statements, the Group determines the depreciation and amortisation of mining related assets by the actual units of production over the estimated reserves of the mines. The amortisation of mining rights amounting to RMB18,785,000 and depreciation of mining structures amounting to RMB6,914,000 are recognised for the year ended 31 December 2017. The estimated reserves are the estimates of the quantity of coal that can be economically and legally extracted from the Group's mining properties, determined according to an independent technical review report with the consideration of recent production and technical information of each mine. In addition, fluctuations in factors including the price of coal, production costs and transportation costs of coal, a variation on recovery rates or unforeseen geological or geotechnical perils may render the management to change the production plan based on the management's judgement and estimation, resulting in a revision on the estimates of coal reserves.

How our audit addressed the key audit matter

Our procedures in relation to the depreciation and amortisation of mining related assets included:

- Examining the production plan prepared by the management of the Group and checking the consistency of estimated production volume throughout the life of the mines against the estimated coal reserves based on an independent technical review report from an external specialist; and
- Assessing the appropriateness of the management assumptions including the future coal price, production costs and right to extract coal mines in estimating the production volume by reference to the Group's historical experiences and our knowledge of the coal mining industry in the People's Republic of China.

Key audit matter

How our audit addressed the key audit matter

2. Carrying amount of non-mining related property, plant and equipment

We identified the carrying amount of non-mining related property, plant and equipment as a key audit matter due to the significant judgements in determining the useful economic lives of items of property, plant and equipment and identification of indicators of impairment.

As at 31 December 2017, the Group's non-mining related property, plant and equipment amounted to RMB65,940,000, net of accumulated depreciation and impairment loss, if any. As explained in note 5 to the consolidated financial statements, it requires the management of the Group to estimate the useful economic lives to write off the costs of property, plant and equipment through depreciation charges, and assess whether any impairment indicators are present, such as redundant events. The Group reviews the estimated useful lives of the assets regularly based on the Group's historical experience with similar assets after taking into account the anticipated technological changes. In addition, the Group reviews internal and external resources of information to identify indicators that the non-mining related property, plant and equipment may be impaired.

Our procedures in relation to the carrying amount of non-mining related property, plant and equipment included:

- Obtaining an understanding of the process in assessing indicators of impairment by the management of the Group and evaluating whether there are any events that would give rise to indicators of impairment such as redundant events; and
- Evaluating the managements' assessment over the useful economic lives of key assets by considering internal and external available data and our knowledge of the business.

Other Information

The directors of the Company are responsible for the other information. The other information comprises the information included in the annual report, but does not include the consolidated financial statements and our auditor's report thereon.

Our opinion on the consolidated financial statements does not cover the other information and we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

In connection with our audit of the consolidated financial statements, our responsibility is to read the other information and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the consolidated financial statements or our knowledge obtained in the audit or otherwise appears to be materially misstated. If, based on the work we have performed, we conclude that there is a material misstatement of this other information, we are required to report that fact. We have nothing to report in this regard.

Responsibilities of Directors and Those Charged with Governance for the Consolidated Financial Statements

The directors of the Company are responsible for the preparation of the consolidated financial statements that give a true and fair view in accordance with HKFRSs issued by the HKICPA and the disclosure requirements of the Hong Kong Companies Ordinance, and for such internal control as the directors determine is necessary to enable the preparation of consolidated financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the consolidated financial statements, the directors are responsible for assessing the Group's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless the directors either intend to liquidate the Group or to cease operations, or have no realistic alternative but to do so.

Those charged with governance are responsible for overseeing the Group's financial reporting process.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Consolidated Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the consolidated financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion solely to you, as a body, in accordance with our agreed terms of engagement, and for no other purpose. We do not assume responsibility towards or accept liability to any other person for the contents of this report. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with HKSAs will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these consolidated financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with HKSAAs, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the consolidated financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Group's internal control.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by the directors.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of the directors' use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Group's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the consolidated financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Group to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the consolidated financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the consolidated financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.
- Obtain sufficient appropriate audit evidence regarding the financial information of the entities or business activities within the Group to express an opinion on the consolidated financial statements. We are responsible for the direction, supervision and performance of the group audit. We remain solely responsible for our audit opinion.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We also provide those charged with governance with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, related safeguards.

From the matters communicated with those charged with governance, we determine those matters that were of most significance in the audit of the consolidated financial statements of the current period and are therefore the key audit matters. We describe these matters in our auditor's report unless law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, we determine that a matter should not be communicated in our report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.

The engagement partner on the audit resulting in this independent auditor's report is Chan Tsz Wai.

Prior to the Reorganisation, 貴州優銀投資控股有限公司 (Guizhou Union Investment Holding Company Limited) (“Union Investment”) and 貴州瑞聯資產管理有限公司 (Guizhou Ruilian Assets Management Company Limited) (“Guizhou Ruilian”) owned 貴州優能(集團)礦業股份有限公司 (Guizhou Union (Group) Mining Co. Ltd.) (“Guizhou Union”) as to 50% and 50%, respectively. Union Investment was owned by two individuals, namely Mr. Xu Bo and Mr. Xiao Zhijun, both being directors of the Company (collectively the “Union Investment Shareholders”), as to 80% and 20%, respectively, while Guizhou Ruilian was owned by Union Investment and other five individuals (the “Guizhou Ruilian Individual Shareholders”), as to 50% and 50% (in aggregate), respectively. In addition, pursuant to the relevant shareholders’ resolution of Guizhou Union and Guizhou Ruilian, Union Investment, a company controlled by Mr. Xu Bo, was able to exercise control over Guizhou Union and Guizhou Ruilian prior to the Reorganisation.

Notes to the Consolidated Financial Statements

1. GENERAL, LISTING, REORGANISATION AND BASIS OF PRESENTATION OF THE CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS - CONTINUED

The Reorganisation principally involved the following steps:

- (i) Acquisition/establishment of the Company and its wholly owned subsidiaries, China Unienergy Holdings Limited (“Unienergy BVI”), China Unienergy Development Co., Limited (“Unienergy Hong Kong”) and 深圳能創新能源開發有限公司 (Shenzhen Nengchuang New Energy Development Company Limited) (“Shenzhen WFOE”), as appropriate. The Company is beneficially owned by the Union Investment Shareholders and the Guizhou Ruilian Individual Shareholders as to the percentages which they effectively held prior to the Reorganisation in the companies now comprising the Group through the two investment holding vehicles, namely Union Investment and Guizhou Ruilian; and
- (ii) Acquisition of the entire 100% equity interest in Union Investment and the 50% equity interest in Guizhou Ruilian from the Union Investment Shareholders and the Guizhou Ruilian Individual Shareholders by Shenzhen WFOE on 11 April 2016.

Upon completion of the Reorganisation on 11 April 2016, the Company became a holding company of the companies now comprising the Group.

The consolidated statement of profit or loss and other comprehensive income, consolidated statement of changes in equity and consolidated statement of cash flows for the year ended 31 December 2016 have been prepared to present the financial performance, changes in equity and cash flows of the companies now comprising the Group as if the group structure upon the completion of the Reorganisation had been in existence throughout the year ended 31 December 2016 or since their respective dates of acquisition/establishment, whichever is shorter.

2. BASIS OF PREPARATION OF CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

At 31 December 2017, the Group had net current liabilities of approximately RMB67 million. In preparing the consolidated financial statements, the directors of the Company have carefully considered the future liquidity of the Group and concluded that the Group has sufficient working capital to meet in full its financial obligations as and when they fall due in the foreseeable future, after taking into account (i) the continuous operating cash inflows generated from the Group’s business; (ii) the Group’s capital expenditure plan for its future business development; and (iii) the availability of banking facilities, amounting to RMB557 million being unutilised facilities. Accordingly, the directors of the Company are satisfied that the adoption of the going concern basis in preparing the consolidated financial statements is appropriate.

3. APPLICATION OF NEW AND REVISED HONG KONG FINANCIAL REPORTING STANDARDS (“HKFRSs”)Amendments to HKFRSs that are mandatorily effective for the current year

The Group has applied the following amendments to HKFRSs issued by the Hong Kong Institute of Certified Public Accountants (“HKICPA”) for the first time in the current year:

| | |
|------------------------|--|
| Amendments to HKAS 7 | Disclosure Initiative |
| Amendments to HKAS 12 | Recognition of Deferred Tax Assets for Unrealised Losses |
| Amendments to HKFRS 12 | As part of the Annual Improvements to HKFRSs 2014 - 2016 Cycle |

Except as described below, the application of the amendments to HKFRSs in the current year has had no material impact on the Group’s financial performance and positions for the current and prior years and/or on the disclosures set out in these consolidated financial statements.

3. APPLICATION OF NEW AND REVISED HONG KONG FINANCIAL REPORTING STANDARDS (“HKFRSs”) - CONTINUED

Amendments to HKAS 7 “Disclosure Initiative”

The Group has applied these amendments for the first time in the current year. The amendments require an entity to provide disclosures that enable users of financial statements to evaluate changes in liabilities arising from financing activities, including both cash and non-cash changes. In addition, the amendments also require disclosures on changes in financial assets if cash flows from those financial assets were, or future cash flows will be, included in cash flows from financing activities.

Specifically, the amendments require the following to be disclosed: (i) changes from financing cash flows; (ii) changes arising from obtaining or losing control of subsidiaries or other businesses; (iii) the effect of changes in foreign exchange rates; (iv) changes in fair values; and (v) other changes.

A reconciliation between the opening and closing balances of these items is provided in note 38. Consistent with the transition provisions of the amendments, the Group has not disclosed comparative information for the prior year. Apart from the additional disclosures in note 38, the application of these amendments has had no impact on the Group’s consolidated financial statements.

3. APPLICATION OF NEW AND REVISED HONG KONG FINANCIAL REPORTING STANDARDS (“HKFRSs”) - CONTINUEDHKFRS 9 “Financial Instruments”

HKFRS 9 introduces new requirements for the classification and measurement of financial assets, financial liabilities, general hedge accounting and impairment requirements for financial assets.

Key requirements of HKFRS 9 which are relevant to the Group are:

- all recognised financial assets that are within the scope of HKFRS 9 are required to be subsequently measured at amortised cost or fair value. Specifically, debt investments that are held within a business model whose objective is to collect the contractual cash flows, and that have contractual cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal outstanding are generally measured at amortised cost at the end of subsequent accounting periods. All other financial assets are measured at their fair value at subsequent accounting periods. In addition, under HKFRS 9, entities may make an irrevocable election to present subsequent changes in the fair value of an equity investment (that is not held for trading) in other comprehensive income, with only dividend income generally recognised in profit or loss.
- in relation to the impairment of financial assets, HKFRS 9 requires an expected credit loss model, as opposed to an incurred credit loss model under HKAS 39 “Financial Instruments: Recognition and Measurement”. The expected credit loss model requires an entity to account for expected credit losses and changes in those expected credit losses at each reporting date to reflect changes in credit risk since initial recognition. In other words, it is no longer necessary for a credit event to have occurred before credit losses are recognised.

Based on the Group’s financial instruments and risk management policies as at 31 December 2017, the directors of the Company anticipate the following potential impact on initial application of HKFRS 9:

3. APPLICATION OF NEW AND REVISED HONG KONG FINANCIAL REPORTING STANDARDS (“HKFRSs”) - CONTINUEDHKFRS 9 “Financial Instruments” - continuedImpairment:*

In general, the directors of the Company anticipate that the application of the expected credit loss model of HKFRS 9 will result in earlier provision of credit losses which are not yet incurred in relation to the Group's financial assets measured at amortised costs and other items that subject to the impairment provisions upon application of HKFRS 9 by the Group.

Based on the assessment by the directors of the Company, if the expected credit loss model were to be applied by the Group, there would not be a material impact on the accumulated amount of impairment loss to be recognised by the Group as at 1 January 2018 as compared to the accumulated amount recognised under HKAS 39 as at 31 December 2017.

HKFRS 15 “Revenue from Contracts with Customers”

HKFRS 15 was issued which establishes a single comprehensive model for entities to use in accounting for revenue arising from contracts with customers. HKFRS 15 will supersede the current revenue recognition guidance including HKAS 18 “Revenue”, HKAS 11 “Construction Contracts” and the related interpretations when it becomes effective.

The core principle of HKFRS 15 is that an entity should recognise revenue to depict the transfer of promised goods or services to customers in an amount that reflects the consideration to which the entity expects to be entitled in exchange for those goods or services. Specifically, the standard introduces a 5-step approach to revenue recognition:

- Step 1: Identify the contract(s) with a customer
- Step 2: Identify the performance obligations in the contract
- Step 3: Determine the transaction price
- Step 4: Allocate the transaction price to the performance obligations in the contract
- Step 5: Recognise revenue when (or as) the entity satisfies a performance obligation

Under HKFRS 15, an entity recognises revenue when (or as) a performance obligation is satisfied, i.e. when ‘control’ of the goods or services underlying the particular performance obligation is transferred to the customer. Far more prescriptive guidance has been added in HKFRS 15 to deal with specific scenarios. Furthermore, extensive disclosures are required by HKFRS 15.

In 2016, the HKICPA issued Clarifications to HKFRS 15 in relation to the identification of performance obligations, principal versus agent considerations, as well as licensing application guidance.

The directors of the Company anticipate that the application of HKFRS 15 in the future may result in more disclosures, however, the directors of the Company do not anticipate that the application of HKFRS 15 will have a material impact on the timing and amounts of revenue recognised in the respective reporting periods.

3. APPLICATION OF NEW AND REVISED HONG KONG FINANCIAL REPORTING STANDARDS (“HKFRSs”) - CONTINUEDHKFRS 16 “Leases”

HKFRS 16 introduces a comprehensive model for the identification of lease arrangements and accounting treatments for both lessors and lessees. HKFRS 16 will supersede HKAS 17 “Leases” and the related interpretations when it becomes effective.

HKFRS 16 distinguishes lease and service contracts on the basis of whether an identified asset is controlled by a customer. Distinctions of operating leases and finance leases are removed for lessee accounting, and is replaced by a model where a right-of-use asset and a corresponding liability have to be recognised for all leases by lessees, except for short-term leases and leases of low value assets.

The right-of-use asset is initially measured at cost and subsequently measured at cost (subject to certain exceptions) less accumulated depreciation and impairment losses, adjusted for any remeasurement of the lease liability. The lease liability is initially measured at the present value of the lease payments that are not paid at that date. Subsequently, the lease liability is adjusted for interest and lease payments, as well as the impact of lease modifications, amongst others. For the classification of cash flows, the Group currently presents upfront prepaid lease payments as investing cash flows in relation to leasehold lands for owned use while other operating lease payments are presented as operating cash flows. Upon application of HKFRS 16, lease payments in relation to lease liability will be allocated into a principal and an interest portion which will be presented as financing cash and operating flows by the Group.

Under HKAS 17, the Group has already recognised an asset for prepaid lease payments for leasehold lands where the Group is a lessee. The application of HKFRS 16 may result in potential changes in classification of the asset depending on whether the Group presents right-of-use assets separately or within the same line item at which the corresponding underlying assets would be presented if they were owned.

In contrast to lessee accounting, HKFRS 16 substantially carries forward the lessor accounting requirements in HKAS 17, and continues to require a lessor to classify a lease either as an operating lease or a finance lease.

Furthermore, extensive disclosures are required by HKFRS 16.

As at 31 December 2017, the Group had non-cancellable operating lease commitments of HK$4,663,000 as disclosed in note 33. A preliminary assessment indicates that these arrangements will meet the definition of a lease. Upon application of HKFRS 16, the Group will recognise a right-of-use asset and a corresponding liability in respect of all these leases unless they qualify for low value or short-term leases.

In addition, the Group currently considers refundable rental deposits paid of HK$424,000 as rights under leases to which HKAS 17 applies. Based on the definition of lease payments under HKFRS 16, such deposits are not payments relating to the right to use the underlying assets, accordingly, the carrying amounts of such deposits may be adjusted to amortised cost and such adjustments are considered as additional lease payments. Adjustments to refundable rental deposits paid would be included in the carrying amount of right-of-use assets.

Furthermore, the application of new requirements may result in changes in measurement, presentation and disclosure as indicated above.

Except for the new HKFRSs mentioned above, the directors of the Company anticipate that the application of all other new and revised HKFRSs will have no material impact on the consolidated financial statements in the foreseeable future.

4. SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

The consolidated financial statements have been prepared in accordance with HKFRSs issued by the HKICPA. In addition, the consolidated financial statements include applicable disclosures required by the Rules Governing the Listing of Securities on the Stock Exchange (“Listing Rules”) and by the Hong Kong Companies Ordinance (the “CO”).

The consolidated financial statements have been prepared on the historical cost basis at the end of each reporting period, as explained in the accounting policies set out below.

Historical cost is generally based on the fair value of the consideration given in exchange for goods and services.

Fair value is the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date, regardless of whether that price is directly observable or estimated using another valuation technique. In estimating the fair value of an asset or a liability, the Group takes into account the characteristics of the asset or liability if market participants would take those characteristics into account when pricing the asset or liability at the measurement date. Fair value for measurement and/or disclosure purposes in these consolidated financial statements is determined on such a basis, except for share-based payment transactions that are within the scope of HKFRS 2 “Share-based Payment”, leasing transactions that are within the scope of HKAS 17 “Leases”, and measurements that have some similarities to fair value but are not fair value, such as net realisable value in HKAS 2 “Inventories” or value in use in HKAS 36 “Impairment of Assets”.

In addition, for financial reporting purposes, fair value measurements are categorised into Level 1, 2 or 3 based on the degree to which the inputs to the fair value measurements are observable and the significance of the inputs to the fair value measurement in its entirety, which are described as follows:

- Level 1 inputs are quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets or liabilities that the entity can access at the measurement date;
- Level 2 inputs are inputs, other than quoted prices included within Level 1, that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly or indirectly; and
- Level 3 inputs are unobservable inputs for the asset or liability.

The principal accounting policies are set out below.

Basis of consolidation

The consolidated financial statements incorporate the financial statements of the Company and entities controlled by the Company and its subsidiaries. Control is achieved when the Company:

- has power over the investee;
- is exposed, or has rights, to variable returns from its involvement with the investee; and
- has the ability to use its power to affect its returns.

The Group reassesses whether or not it controls an investee if facts and circumstances indicate that there are changes to one or more of the three elements of control listed above.

Notes to the Consolidated Financial Statements

4. SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES - CONTINUEDBasis of consolidation - continued

Consolidation of a subsidiary begins when the Group obtains control over the subsidiary and ceases when the Group loses control of the subsidiary. Specifically, income and expenses of a subsidiary acquired or disposed of during the year are included in the consolidated statement of profit or loss and other comprehensive income from the date the Group gains control until the date when the Group ceases to control the subsidiary.

Profit or loss and each item of other comprehensive income are attributed to the owners of the Company and to the non-controlling interests. Total comprehensive income of subsidiaries is attributed to the owners of the Company and to the non-controlling interests even if this results in the non-controlling interests having a deficit balance.

When necessary, adjustments are made to the financial statements of subsidiaries to bring their accounting policies into line with the Group's accounting policies.

All intragroup assets, liabilities, equity, income, expenses and cash flows relating to transactions between members of the Group are eliminated in full on consolidation.

Merger accounting for business combination involving businesses under common control

The consolidated financial statements incorporate the financial statements items of the combining businesses in which the common control combination occurs as if they had been combined from the date when the combining businesses first came under the control of the controlling party.

The net assets of the combining businesses are combined using the existing book values from the controlling party's perspective. No amount is recognised in respect of goodwill or bargain purchase gain at the time of common control combination.

The consolidated statement of profit or loss and other comprehensive income includes the results of each of the combining businesses from the earliest date presented or since the date when the combining businesses first came under the common control, where this is a shorter period.

Investment in a joint venture

A joint venture is a joint arrangement whereby the parties that have joint control of the arrangement have rights to the net assets of the joint arrangement. Joint control is the contractually agreed sharing of control of an arrangement, which exists only when decisions about the relevant activities require unanimous consent of the parties sharing control.

The results and assets and liabilities of the joint venture are incorporated in these consolidated financial statements using the equity method of accounting. The financial statements of the joint venture used for equity accounting purposes are prepared using uniform accounting policies as those of the Group for like transactions and events in similar circumstances. Under the equity method, an investment in a joint venture is initially recognised in the consolidated statement of financial position at cost and adjusted thereafter to recognise the Group's share of the profit or loss and other comprehensive income of the joint venture. Changes in net assets of the joint venture other than profit or loss and other comprehensive income are not accounted for unless such changes resulted in changes in ownership interest held by the Group. When the Group's share of losses of a joint venture exceeds the Group's interest in that joint venture (which includes any long-term interests that, in substance, form part of the Group's net investment in the joint venture), the Group discontinues recognising its share of further losses. Additional losses are recognised only to the extent that the Group has incurred legal or constructive obligations or made payments on behalf of the joint venture.

4. SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES - CONTINUED

An investment in a joint venture is accounted for using the equity method from the date on which the investee becomes a joint venture.

The requirements of HKAS 39 are applied to determine whether it is necessary to recognise any impairment loss with respect to the Group's investment in a joint venture. When necessary, the entire carrying amount of the investment (including goodwill) is tested for impairment in accordance with HKAS 36 "Impairment of Assets" as a single asset by comparing its recoverable amount (higher of value in use and fair value less costs of disposal) with its carrying amount. Any impairment loss recognised forms part of the carrying amount of the investment. Any reversal of that impairment loss is recognised in accordance with HKAS 36 to the extent that the recoverable amount of the investment subsequently increases.

When a group entity transacts with a joint venture of the Group, profits and losses resulting from the transactions with the joint venture are recognised in the Group's consolidated financial statements only to the extent of interests in the joint venture that are not related to the Group.

Borrowing costs

Borrowing costs directly attributable to the acquisition, construction or production of qualifying assets, which are assets that necessarily take a substantial period of time to get ready for their intended use or sale, are added to the cost of those assets until such time as the assets are substantially ready for their intended use or sale.

All other borrowing costs are recognised in profit or loss in the period in which they are incurred.

Government grants

Government grants are not recognised until there is reasonable assurance that the Group will comply with the conditions attaching to them and that the grants will be received.

Government grants are recognised in profit or loss on a systematic basis over the periods in which the Group recognises as expenses the related costs for which the grants are intended to compensate. Specifically, government grants whose primary condition is that the Group should purchase, construct or otherwise acquire non-current assets are recognised as a deduction from the carrying amount of the relevant asset in the consolidated statement of financial position and transferred to profit or loss on a systematic and rational basis over the useful lives of the related assets.

Revenue recognition

Revenue is measured at the fair value of the consideration received or receivable.

Revenue is recognised when the amount of revenue can be reliably measured; when it is probable that future economic benefits will flow to the Group and when specific criteria have been met for each of the Group's activities, as described below.

Revenue from the sale of goods is recognised when the goods are delivered and titles have passed.

4. SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES - CONTINUEDRevenue recognition - continued

Interest income is accrued on a time basis, by reference to the principal outstanding and at the effective interest rate applicable, which is the rate that exactly discounts the estimated future cash receipts through the expected life of the financial asset to that asset's net carrying amount on initial recognition.

Leasing

Leases are classified as finance leases whenever the terms of the lease transfer substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership to the lessee. All other leases are classified as operating leases.

The Group as lessee

Operating lease payments are recognised as an expense on a straight-line basis over the lease term.

Leasehold land and building

When the Group makes payments for a property interest which includes both leasehold land and building elements, the Group assesses the classification of each element separately based on the assessment as to whether substantially all the risks and rewards incidental to ownership of each element have been transferred to the Group, unless it is clear that both elements are operating leases in which case the entire property is accounted for as an operating lease. Specifically, the entire consideration (including any lump-sum upfront payments) are allocated between the leasehold land and the building elements in proportion to the relative fair values of the leasehold interests in the land element and building element at initial recognition.

To the extent the allocation of the relevant payments can be made reliably, interest in leasehold land that is accounted for as an operating lease is presented as "prepaid lease payments" in the consolidated statement of financial position and is amortised over the lease term on a straight-line basis. When the payments cannot be allocated reliably between the leasehold land and building elements, the entire property is generally classified as if the leasehold land is under finance lease.

Foreign currencies

In preparing the financial statements of each individual group entity, transactions in currencies other than the functional currency of that entity (foreign currencies) are recognised at the rates of exchanges prevailing on the dates of the transactions. At the end of the reporting period, monetary items denominated in foreign currencies are retranslated at the rates prevailing at that date. Non-monetary items that are measured in terms of historical cost in a foreign currency are not retranslated.

Exchange differences arising on the settlement of monetary items, and on the retranslation of monetary items, are recognised in profit or loss in the period in which they arise.

Property, plant and equipment

Property, plant and equipment including buildings held for use in the production or supply of goods or services, or for administrative purposes are stated in the consolidated statement of financial position at cost less subsequent accumulated depreciation and subsequent accumulated impairment losses, if any.

Mining structures are stated at cost less subsequent accumulated depreciation and subsequent accumulated impairment losses. Mining structures for which proved and probable reserves have been established are depreciated upon production based on actual units of production over the estimated proved and probable reserves of the relevant mines.

Reserve estimates are reviewed when information becomes available that indicates a reserve change is needed, or at a minimum once a year. Any material effect from changes in estimates is considered in the period the change occurs.

Depreciation is recognised so as to write off the cost of items of property, plant and equipment, other than mining structures, less their residual values over their estimated useful lives, using the straight-line method. The estimated useful lives, residual values and depreciation method are reviewed at the end of each reporting period, with the effect of any changes in estimate accounted for on a prospective basis.

An item of property, plant and equipment and mining structures is derecognised upon disposal or when no future economic benefits are expected to arise from the continued use of the asset. Any gain or loss arising on the disposal or retirement of an item of property, plant and equipment is determined as the difference between the sales proceeds and the carrying amount of the asset and is recognised in profit or loss.

Mining rights

Mining rights are stated at cost less subsequent accumulated amortisation and subsequent accumulated impairment losses. Mining rights include the cost of acquiring mining licenses. The mining rights are amortised using the unit-of-production method based on the proved and probable coal mining reserves.

A mining right is derecognised on disposal, or when no future economic benefits are expected from use or disposal. Gains and losses arising from derecognition of a mining right, measured as the difference between the net disposal proceeds and the carrying amount of the asset, are recognised in profit or loss when the asset is derecognised.

Impairment of non-financial assets

At the end of the reporting period, the Group reviews the carrying amounts of its assets to determine whether there is any indication that those assets have suffered an impairment loss. If any such indication exists, the recoverable amount of the relevant asset is estimated in order to determine the extent of the impairment loss, if any.

When it is not possible to estimate the recoverable amount of an asset individually, the Group estimates the recoverable amount of the cash-generating unit to which the asset belongs. When a reasonable and consistent basis of allocation can be identified, corporate assets are also allocated to individual cash-generating units, or otherwise they are allocated to the smallest group of cash-generating units for which a reasonable and consistent allocation basis can be identified.

Recoverable amount is the higher of fair value less costs of disposal and value in use. In assessing value in use, the estimated future cash flows are discounted to their present value using a pre-tax discount rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and the risks specific to the asset (or cash-generating unit) for which the estimates of future cash flows have not been adjusted.

4. SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES - CONTINUEDImpairment of non-financial assets - continued

If the recoverable amount of an asset (or a cash-generating unit) is estimated to be less than its carrying amount, the carrying amount of the asset (or cash-generating unit) is reduced to its recoverable amount. In allocating the impairment loss, the impairment loss is allocated first to reduce the carrying amount of any goodwill (if applicable) and then to the other assets on a pro-rata basis based on the carrying amount of each asset in the unit. The carrying amount of an asset is not reduced below the highest of its fair value less costs of disposal (if measurable), its value in use (if determinable) and zero. The amount of the impairment loss that would otherwise have been allocated to the asset is allocated pro rata to the other assets of the unit. An impairment loss is recognised immediately in profit or loss.

Where an impairment loss subsequently reverses, the carrying amount of the asset (or cash-generating unit) is increased to the revised estimate of its recoverable amount, but so that the increased carrying amount does not exceed the carrying amount that would have been determined had no impairment loss been recognised for the asset (or cash-generating unit) in prior years. A reversal of an impairment loss is recognised immediately in profit or loss.

Provisions

Provisions are recognised when the Group has a present obligation (legal or constructive) as a result of a past event, it is probable that the Group will be required to settle that obligation, and a reliable estimate can be made of the amount of the obligation.

The amount recognised as a provision is the best estimate of the consideration required to settle the present obligation at the end of the reporting period, taking into account the risks and uncertainties surrounding the obligation. When a provision is measured using the cash flows estimated to settle the present obligation, its carrying amount is the present value of those cash flows (where the effect of the time value of money is material).

Provision for restoration and environmental costs

Provision for the Group's restoration and environmental costs is based on estimates of required expenditure at the mines in accordance with the PRC rules and regulations. The Group estimates its liabilities for final reclamation and mine closure based upon detailed calculations of the amount and timing of the future cash expenditure to perform the required work, the amount of provision reflects the present value of the expenditures expected to be required to settle the obligation and is capitalised at the start of each project, as soon as the obligation to incur such costs arises. These costs are charged to profit or loss over the life of the operation through the depreciation of the assets.

Restoration and environmental costs which are caused on an ongoing basis during production and shall incur during production are charged to profit or loss as extraction progresses.

Retirement benefit costs

Payments to defined contribution scheme are recognised as an expense when employees have rendered service entitling them to the contributions. Payments made to state-managed retirement benefit schemes are dealt with as payments to defined contribution scheme where the Group's obligations under the schemes are equivalent to those arising in a defined contributed retirement benefit plan.

Short-term employee benefits

Short-term employee benefits are recognised at the undiscounted amount of the benefits expected to be paid as and when employees rendered the services. All short-term employee benefits are recognised as an expense unless another HKFRS requires or permits the inclusion of the benefit in the cost of an asset.

A liability is recognised for benefits accruing to employees (such as salaries) after deducting any amount already paid.

Taxation

Income tax expense represents the sum of the tax currently payable and deferred tax.

The tax currently payable is based on taxable profit for the year. Taxable profit differs from 'profit before taxation' as reported in the consolidated statement of profit or loss and other comprehensive income because of income or expense that are taxable or deductible in other years and items that are never taxable or deductible. The Group's liability for current tax is calculated using tax rates that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the end of the reporting period.

Deferred tax is recognised on temporary differences between the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities in the consolidated financial statements and the corresponding tax bases used in the computation of taxable profit. Deferred tax liabilities are generally recognised for all taxable temporary differences. Deferred tax assets are generally recognised for all deductible temporary differences to the extent that it is probable that taxable profits will be available against which those deductible temporary differences can be utilised. Such deferred tax assets and liabilities are not recognised if the temporary difference arises from the initial recognition (other than in a business combination) of assets and liabilities in a transaction that affects neither the taxable profit nor the accounting profit.

Deferred tax liabilities are recognised for taxable temporary differences associated with investments in subsidiaries and interest in a joint venture, except where the Group is able to control the reversal of the temporary difference and it is probable that the temporary difference will not reverse in the foreseeable future. Deferred tax assets arising from deductible temporary differences associated with such investments and interests are only recognised to the extent that it is probable that there will be sufficient taxable profits against which to utilise the benefits of the temporary differences and they are expected to reverse in the foreseeable future.

The carrying amount of deferred tax assets is reviewed at the end of each reporting period and reduced to the extent that it is no longer probable that sufficient taxable profits will be available to allow all or part of the asset to be recovered.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are measured at the tax rates that are expected to apply in the period in which the liability is settled or the asset is realised, based on tax rate (and tax laws) that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the end of the reporting period.

The measurement of deferred tax liabilities and assets reflects the tax consequences that would follow from the manner in which the Group expects, at the end of the reporting period, to recover or settle the carrying amount of its assets and liabilities.

Current and deferred tax are recognised in profit or loss, except when they relate to items that are recognised in other comprehensive income or directly in equity, in which case, the current and deferred tax are also recognised in other comprehensive income or directly in equity respectively.

Notes to the Consolidated Financial Statements

4. SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES - CONTINUEDInventories

Inventories are stated at the lower of cost and net realisable value. Costs of inventories are determined on a weighted average method. Net realisable value represents the estimated selling price for inventories less costs necessary to make the sale.

Financial instruments

Financial assets and financial liabilities are recognised when a group entity becomes a party to the contractual provisions of the instrument.

Financial assets and financial liabilities are initially measured at fair value. Transaction costs that are directly attributable to the acquisition or issue of financial assets and financial liabilities are added to or deducted from the fair value of the financial assets or financial liabilities, as appropriate, on initial recognition.

Financial assets

The Group's financial assets are classified as loans and receivables. The classification depends on the nature and purpose of the financial assets and is determined at the time of initial recognition.

Effective interest method

The effective interest method is a method of calculating the amortised cost of a debt instrument and of allocating interest income over the relevant period. The effective interest rate is the rate that exactly discounts estimated future cash receipts (including all fees and points paid or received that form an integral part of the effective interest rate, transaction costs and other premiums or discounts) through the expected life of the debt instrument, or, where appropriate, a shorter period, to the net carrying amount on initial recognition.

Interest income is recognised on an effective interest basis for debt instruments.

Loans and receivables

Loans and receivables are non-derivative financial assets with fixed or determinable payments that are not quoted in an active market. Subsequent to initial recognition, loans and receivables (including rehabilitation deposits, trade and other receivables, short-term bank deposits and bank balances) are measured at amortised cost using the effective interest method, less any impairment.

Interest income is recognised by applying the effective interest rate, except for short-term receivables where the recognition of interest would be immaterial.

Impairment of financial assets

Financial assets are assessed for indicators of impairment at the end of each reporting period. Financial assets are considered to be impaired when there is objective evidence that, as a result of one or more events that occurred after the initial recognition of the financial asset, the estimated future cash flows of the financial assets have been affected.

Objective evidence of impairment could include:

- significant financial difficulty of the issuer or counterparty; or
- breach of contract, such as default or delinquency in interest or principal payments; or
- it becoming probable that the borrower will enter bankruptcy or financial re-organisation.

Objective evidence of impairment for a portfolio of receivables could include the Group's past experience of collecting payments, an increase in the number of delayed payments in the portfolio past the average credit period, observable changes in national or local economic conditions that correlate with default on receivables.

The amount of the impairment loss recognised is the difference between the asset's carrying amount and the present value of the estimated future cash flows discounted at the financial asset's original effective interest rate.

The carrying amount of the financial asset is reduced by the impairment loss directly for all financial assets with the exception of trade receivables, where the carrying amount is reduced through the use of an allowance account. Changes in the carrying amount of the allowance account are recognised in profit or loss. When a trade receivable is considered uncollectible, it is written off against the allowance account. Subsequent recoveries of amounts previously written off are credited to profit or loss.

If, in a subsequent period, the amount of the impairment loss decreases and the decrease can be related objectively to an event occurring after the impairment was recognised, the previously recognised impairment loss is reversed through profit or loss to the extent that the carrying amount of the investment at the date the impairment is reversed does not exceed what the amortised cost would have been had the impairment not been recognised.

Financial liabilities and equity instruments

Debt and equity instruments issued by a group entity are classified as either financial liabilities or as equity in accordance with the substance of the contractual arrangements and the definitions of a financial liability and an equity instrument.

Equity instruments

An equity instrument is any contract that evidences a residual interest in the assets of an entity after deducting all of its liabilities. Equity instruments issued by the group entities are recognised at the proceeds received, net of direct issue costs.

Effective interest method

The effective interest method is a method of calculating the amortised cost of a financial liability and of allocating interest expense over the relevant period. The effective interest rate is the rate that exactly discounts estimated future cash payments (including all fees and points paid or received that form an integral part of the effective interest rate, transaction costs and other premiums or discounts) through the expected life of the financial liability, or, where appropriate, a shorter period, to the net carrying amount on initial recognition.

Interest expense is recognised on an effective interest basis.

Financial liabilities at amortised cost

The Group's financial liabilities including trade and other payables and bank borrowings are subsequently measured at amortised cost, using the effective interest method.

Derecognition

The Group derecognises a financial asset only when the contractual rights to the cash flows from the asset expire, or when it transfers the financial asset and substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership of the asset to another entity.

On derecognition of a financial asset, the difference between the asset's carrying amount and the sum of the consideration received and receivable is recognised in profit or loss.

The Group derecognises financial liabilities when, and only when, the Group's obligations are discharged, cancelled or have expired. The difference between the carrying amount of the financial liability derecognised and the consideration paid and payable is recognised in profit or loss.

5. KEY SOURCES OF ESTIMATION UNCERTAINTY

In the application of the Group's accounting policies, which are described in note 4, the directors of the Company are required to make estimates and assumptions about the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities that are not readily apparent from other sources. The estimates and associated assumptions are based on historical experience and other factors that are considered to be relevant. Actual results may differ from these estimates.

The estimates and underlying assumptions are reviewed on an on-going basis. Revisions to accounting estimates are recognised in the period in which the estimate is revised if the revision affects only that period, or in the period of the revision and future periods if the revision affects both current and further periods.

The following are the key assumptions concerning the future, and other key sources of estimation uncertainty at the end of the reporting period, that may have a significant risk of causing a material adjustment to the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities within the next financial year.

5. KEY SOURCES OF ESTIMATION UNCERTAINTY - CONTINUEDUnit-of-production depreciation and amortisation for mining related assets

As at 31 December 2017, the carrying amounts of mining rights and mining structures were RMB878,274,000 (2016: RMB896,759,000) and RMB213,958,000 (2016: RMB220,872,000), respectively. The Group has recognised amortisation of mining rights amounting to RMB18,785,000 (2016: RMB20,740,000) and depreciation of mining structures amounting to RMB6,914,000 (2016: RMB7,947,000) for the year ended 31 December 2017. The Group determines the depreciation and amortisation of mining related assets by the actual units of production over the estimated reserves of the mines. Further details about the reserve estimates are set out below.

Reserve estimates

Proved and probable coal reserve estimates are estimates of the quantity of coal that can be economically and legally extracted from the Group's mining properties, determined according to an independent technical review report with the consideration of recent production and technical information of each mine.

Fluctuations in factors including the price of coal, production costs and transportation costs of coal, a variation on recovery rates or unforeseen geological or geotechnical perils may render the management to change the production plan, resulting in a revision on the estimates of coal reserves.

Because the economic assumptions used to estimate reserves change from period to period, and because additional geological data is generated during the course of operations, estimates of reserves may change from period to period. Changes in reported reserves may affect the Group's financial results and financial position in a number of ways, including the following:

- Asset carrying values may be affected due to changes in estimated future cash flows.
- Depreciation and amortisation charged to profit or loss may change where such charges are determined by the units-of-production basis, or where the useful economic lives of assets change.
- The carrying value of deferred tax assets may change due to changes in estimates of the likely recovery of the tax benefits.

Depreciation and impairment of non-mining related property, plant and equipment

As at 31 December 2017, the carrying amount of non-mining related property, plant and equipment was RMB65,940,000 (2016: RMB73,110,000), net of accumulated depreciation and impairment loss, if any. Non-mining related property, plant and equipment are depreciated on a straight-line basis over the estimated useful lives of the assets, after taking into account the estimated residual value. The Group reviews the estimated useful lives of the assets regularly based on the Group's historical experience with similar assets and taking into account anticipated technological changes. The depreciation expense for future periods would be adjusted if there are significant changes from previous estimates. In addition, the Group reviews internal and external resources of information to identify indicators that the non-mining related property, plant and equipment may be impaired.

5. KEY SOURCES OF ESTIMATION UNCERTAINTY - CONTINUEDProvision for restoration and environmental costs

The provision for restoration and environmental costs as set out in note 25 has been determined by the directors of the Company based on current regulatory requirements and their best estimates. The management of the Group estimate this liability for final reclamation and mine closure based on detailed calculations of the amounts and timing of future cash flows that required to perform the required work. The provision reflects the present value of the expenditures expected to be required to settle the obligation. However, as the effect on the land and the environment from mining activities becomes apparent only in future periods, the estimate of the associated costs may be subject to change in the future. The provision is reviewed regularly to properly reflect the present value of the obligation arising from the current and past mining activities. As at 31 December 2017, the carrying amount of provision for restoration and environmental costs was RMB18,025,000 (2016: RMB17,048,000).

6. REVENUE AND SEGMENT INFORMATION

The management determines the operating segment based on the information reported to the Group's chief operating decision maker ("CODM"), being the executive directors of the Company, which are prepared based on the same accounting policies set out in note 4. The CODM assesses the operating performance and allocates the resources of the Group as a whole, as the Group is primarily engaged in the extraction and sale of anthracite coal in the PRC. Accordingly, there is only one operating and reportable segment. All the principal assets employed by the Group are located in the PRC.

Segment assets and liabilities

Information regularly reported to the CODM for the purposes of resources allocation and performance assessment does not include any assets and liabilities. Accordingly, no segment assets and liabilities are presented.

Before accepting any new customers, the Group assesses the customers' credit quality and reputation. This exercise is also performed on a regular basis by the Group. In general, the Group requests advance payments from customers before delivering the goods and no credit period is granted. For certain customers, the Group requests an upfront sales deposit and grants them a credit period of 45 days for their purchases from the Group for the year ended 31 December 2016. No credit period was granted to customers for the year ended 31 December 2017 and no upfront sales deposit was received for this purpose.

The following is an aged analysis of trade receivables, presented based on invoice dates which approximated the respective revenue recognition date, at the end of the reporting period:

| | 2017 | 2016 |
|--------------|-----------|---------------|
| | RMB'000 | RMB'000 |
| 0 - 30 days | 91 | 58,992 |

At 31 December 2016, included in the Group's trade receivables balance were debtors with an aggregate amount of RMB6,000 (2017: Nil) which were past due at the end of the reporting period of which the Group has not provided for impairment loss. The Group does not hold any collateral over these balances.

The management considered that no impairment loss on the above amount was necessary in view of the upfront sales deposits already received, the financial background of these customers and their subsequent settlements. Majority of trade receivables that are neither past due nor impaired have no default payment history.

The Group provides for the present obligations of the cost of the restoration.

The provision for restoration and environmental costs has been determined by the management based on their past experience and best estimates for the restoration upon the closure of the mine sites based on the amounts and timing of future cash flows that required to perform the required work of restoration, including material costs and labour costs, and discounted at a discount rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and the risks specific to the liability to reflect the present value of the expenditures expected to be required to settle such obligations.

Included in the provision is an amount of RMB2,010,000 (2017: Nil) recognised as written-off of property, plant and equipment upon changes in estimation during the year ended 31 December 2016.

30. CAPITAL RISK MANAGEMENT

The Group manages its capital to ensure that entities in the Group will be able to continue as a going concern while maximising the return to shareholders through the optimisation of the debt and equity balance. The Group's overall strategy remains unchanged from prior year.

The capital structure of the Group consists of net debt, which includes bank borrowings disclosed in note 26, net of cash and cash equivalents, and equity attributable to owners of the Company, comprising share capital, retained profits and other reserves.

The directors of the Company review the capital structure regularly. As part of this review, the directors consider the cost of capital and the risks associated with each class of capital. (b) Financial risk management objectives and policies

The Group's major financial instruments include rehabilitation deposits, trade and other receivables, short-term bank deposits, bank balances, trade and other payables and bank borrowings. Details of the financial instruments are disclosed in respective notes. The risks associated with these financial instruments include market risk (currency risk and interest rate risk), credit risk and liquidity risk. The policies on how to mitigate these risks are set out below. The management manages and monitors these exposures to ensure appropriate measures are implemented on a timely and effective manner.

Market risk(i) Currency risk

The Group mainly operates in the PRC and the exposure to exchange rate risks mainly arises from fluctuations of foreign currencies against the functional currency of the relevant group entities, including HKD. Exchange rate fluctuations and market trends have always been the concern of the Group. The Group currently does not enter into any derivative contracts to minimise the currency risk exposure. However, the management will consider hedging significant currency risk should the need arise.

(b) Financial risk management objectives and policies - continued

At the end of the reporting period, the carrying amount of the Group's monetary assets denominated in a currency other than the functional currency of the relevant group entities, representing bank balances, are as follows:

Assets

| | 2017 | 2016 |
|-----|---------|---------|
| | RMB'000 | RMB'000 |
| HKD | 227 | 6,941 |

The following table details the Group's sensitivity to a 5% (2016: 5%) increase and decrease in RMB against the relevant foreign currency. 5% (2016: 5%) is the sensitivity rate used when reporting foreign currency risk internally to key management personnel. The sensitivity analysis includes only outstanding foreign currency denominated monetary items and adjusts their translation at the end of the reporting period for a 5% (2016: 5%) change in foreign currency rates. A positive number below indicates a decrease in post-tax profit where RMB strengthens 5% (2016: 5%) against the relevant currency. For a 5% (2016: 5%) weakening of RMB against the relevant currency, there would be an equal and opposite impact on the post-tax profit.

| | 2017 | 2016 |
|-----------------|---------|---------|
| | RMB'000 | RMB'000 |
| Post-tax profit | 11 | 347 |

(ii) Interest rate risk

The Group's bank balances and the resources fees payable carry floating-rate interests and the Group has exposure to cash flow interest rate due to the fluctuation of the prevailing market interest rates. No sensitivity analysis is presented as the effect is insignificant as assessed by the management.

The Group's short-term bank deposits and bank borrowings carry fixed-rate interest and the Group has exposure to fair value interest rate risk.

The Group currently does not have a hedging policy on interest rate risk. However, the management closely monitors interest rate exposure and will consider hedging significant interest rate change exposure should the need arise.

31. FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS - CONTINUED

(b) Financial risk management objectives and policies - continued

Credit risk

As at 31 December 2017, the carrying amounts of the respective recognised financial assets as stated in the consolidated statement of financial position best represent the Group's maximum exposure to credit risk which will cause a financial loss to the Group due to failure to discharge an obligation by the counterparties.

In order to minimise the credit risk, the management of the Group has delegated a team responsible for determination of credit limits, credit approvals and other monitoring procedures to ensure that follow-up action is taken to recover overdue debts. In addition, the Group reviews the recoverable amount of each individual trade debt at the end of the reporting period to ensure that adequate impairment losses are made for irrecoverable amounts. In this regard, the directors of the Company consider that the Group's credit risk is significantly reduced.

At 31 December 2017, the Group had a concentration of credit risk as the top five trade debtors, which are private entities located in the PRC and engaged in the trading of coal products, accounted for approximately 100% (2016: 83%) of its total trade debts balance. In view of this, senior management members regularly visit these customers to understand their business operations and cash flows position and request upfront sales deposits from them, whenever necessary. In this regard, the management considers that this credit concentration risk has been significantly mitigated.

The bank balances and short-term bank deposits are deposited in two banks in the PRC and Hong Kong. However, the credit risk is considered limited because the counterparties are banks with good reputation.

Liquidity risk

In the management of the liquidity risk, the Group monitors and maintains a level of cash and cash equivalents deemed adequate by the management to finance the Group's operations and mitigate the effects of fluctuations in cash flows. The management monitors the utilisation of bank borrowings and ensures compliance with loan covenants.

At 31 December 2017, the Group had net current liabilities of approximately RMB67 million. In preparing the consolidated financial statements, the directors of the Company have carefully considered the future liquidity of the Group and concluded that the Group has sufficient working capital to meet in full its financial obligations as and when they fall due in the foreseeable future, after taking into account (i) the continuous operating cash inflows generated from the Group's business, (ii) the Group's capital expenditure plan for its future business development, and (iii) the availability of banking facilities. Accordingly, the directors of the Company are satisfied that the adoption of the going concern basis in preparing the consolidated financial statements is appropriate.

At 31 December 2017, the Group had available banking facilities of RMB900 million (2016: RMB900 million), out of which approximately RMB557 million (2016: RMB325 million) remained unutilised.

The table has been drawn up based on the undiscounted cash flows of financial liabilities based on the earliest date on which the Group can be required to pay. The maturity dates for certain non-derivative financial liabilities are based on the agreed repayment dates.

The table includes both interest and principal cash flows.

(c) Fair value measurement of financial instruments

The fair values of the financial assets and financial liabilities have been determined in accordance with generally accepted pricing models based on a discounted cash flow analysis, with the most significant inputs being the discount rate that reflects the credit risk of counterparties.

The management considers that the carrying amounts of the financial assets and financial liabilities recognised in the consolidated financial statements approximate their fair values.

32. CONTINGENT LIABILITIES

In prior years, the Group entered into five conditional asset transfer agreements with independent third parties to acquire all the assets and liabilities in five companies, each of which is inactive but holding the mining right of an anthracite coal mine in Guiyang, the PRC. The agreements contain a number of completion precedents including, but not limited to, transfer of mining right title to the Group, technology improvement and related application for upgrading the annual production capacity of the mine by the vendors, obtaining the updated mining right licenses with the enhanced production capacity, satisfactory completion of the due diligence works by the Group as well as consideration determination based on professional valuation and consideration settlement.

During the year ended 31 December 2016, the Group entered into supplemental agreements with the vendors to delineate the rights and obligations between the parties under the proposed acquisitions and each of the vendors agreed to indemnify the Group and its directors and shareholders for any potential liabilities therefrom. In addition, the Group has the sole and absolute discretion to decide whether or not to proceed with the acquisitions in accordance with the supplemental agreements.

As at 31 December 2017, the respective acquisitions are yet to complete given the fact that many of the key completion precedents are yet to complete. Hence, the directors of the Company consider that it is not probable that future economic benefits associated with the mines will flow to the Group and the consideration of the transactions cannot be measured reliably. The directors of the Company concluded that the risks and rewards of those anthracite coal mines are yet to be transferred to the Group.

Notwithstanding there are certain obligations imposed on the Group in the respective sale and purchase agreements as well as those mining license transfer agreements subsequently entered into, the management of the Group, having consulted its legal advisors, considered that contingent liabilities adhered to those agreements are remote and yet to estimate reliably. Hence, no provision has been made in accordance with HKAS 37 "Provisions, Contingent Liabilities and Contingent Assets".

Summary of Mine Properties

Notes:

- (1) 4.8 sq.km. is the reserved mining area of Lasu Coal Mine, which includes its licensed mining area of 1.6 sq.km..
- (2) Although the permitted annual production capacity specified in the current mining licenses of Lasu Coal Mine is still at its initial level, the coal mine obtained the approval from Guizhou Energy Administration for joint trial run at the new annual production capacity of 450,000 tonnes on 12 January 2016. The mine has been under joint trial run at the increased capacity since then, and we expect Lasu Coal Mine to obtain the new mining licenses with the increased permitted annual production capacity in late 2017.
- (3) The annual production capacity in relation to relevant mining licenses, of which Weishe Mine has obtained the mining licence with permitted annual production capacity of 450,000 tonnes on 23 June 2016 and Luozhou Coal Mine has obtained the mining licence with permitted annual production capacity of 450,000 tonnes on 12 September 2016.
- (4) The reserve data as of 31 December 2016 are provided by the Company's internal expert in accordance with the JORC Code.
- (5) The reserve data as of 31 December 2017 has been adjusted by the proved reserve data and the probable reserve data as at 31 December 2016, after deducting the reserve data extracted from the mining activity between 1 January 2017 and 31 December 2017.
- (6) The data of mining activities of the Group as of 31 December 2017.
- (7) There was no exploration and development activity for the Group during the Reporting Period, and that the Group has incurred RMB273,184,000, being the cost of sales, for the mining production activities for the year ended 31 December 2017.
